“ Dear Mama,

I/We miss you soooooooooo much, but I KNOW you're enjoying your time with your parents, sister, brothers, and niece. I know you are more than proud of your grandchildren and that incredibly brilliant grandson of yours. When I look at my girls I always think about you telling me one day I'd look up and they'd be grown women. That time has come because Lauren is about to be 18 in a couple of weeks. I REALLLLLLLLLLLY wish you were here to witness my girls on their journey, as well as, just you being here to enjoy your grans. I always tell The Most High I have a scroll list of people that could be gone versus you and a host of other beautiful souls, but then I think about how you no longer have to suffer and live among these God forsaken beings that exist. I know that Grandma was ready to hold you again, and Kizzy wanted a caramel cake made...lol...now your baby brother is with you, and I know he is happy because he missed Burt, Kizzy, Grandma, and you. I thank you mama for always being genuine, kind, loving, and just the GREATEST Mother in the Universe. I love you with every being of my soul...one day I will grieve, one day I will heal, one day we'll converse in my dreams, one day we'll meet again.. until then continue to soar the Universe and continue providing us with your loving and everlasting protection. Continue to walk, guide and love us... we love you and miss you...make your presence known to your sisters, brothers and grandchildren.. I can wait... I love you mama and miss you dearly.

“ I didn't know Auntie Alice very well but I knew her whenever I saw her. She always greeted me with a big ole smile and a warm loving hug. There was no mistaking where I "came" from when I saw her. After reading her obituary I realize we had a lot in common. I wondered where I got my love for the hands on stuff. I always thought it was from my Dad. Well now I know it runs deep within me and not just from him. Was just thinking about you today and thought I'd let you know. Love, Hugs & Kisses.... Toy
