

Mr. Chester Floyd Albritton Sr.

February 19, 1927 - August 3, 2013

Chester F. Albritton, Sr. was born in Mason, Tennessee on February 19, 1927 the second son of Roberta Parker and Joe Albritton. He graduated from Booker T. Washington High School in 1945 and moved to Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Chester met the love of his life, Jessie P. Williams in 1948. They were married June 18, 1949. To that union was born two children, Sheila Dianne and Chester Floyd, Jr.

Chester was an extremely hardworking man who was dedicated to his family. He started work at the young age of 14. Chester had many skills and occupations among those were blacksmithing, brick masonry and leather work. He retired Sears, Roebuck and Co. where he was the manager of the Northridge Tire Center as well as a night watchman and janitor at WTMJ. A devout Christian, Chester was a member of Mount Olive Missionary Baptist Church for 58 years and served as a committed deacon, Sunday school teacher and the Chairman of the finance committee along with numerous other duties.

Chester was a master at shooting pool, a voracious reader and had a dry, witty sense of humor. He was very astute when it came to local and national politics and was not shy in sharing his opinion on matters of the day,

Chester was preceded in death by his parents, his brother, Leonard McCoy Albritton, Sr., and his aunt, Sammie D. Thomas. Left to cherish memory and celebrate his life are his devoted wife of 64 years, Jessie Pearl, his children Sheila (Alfred) Cochran and Chester F. Albritton, Jr., daughters-in-law: Gwendolyn A. Albritton and Rebecca Burt. Chester treasured his five grandchildren: Angela P. (Jermaine) Whitlow, Lauren J. Albritton, Elise J. Cochran, Jennifer K. ( Courtney) Evans and Chester F.
