Even though his 'government' name was Clarence, he was affectionately known as - and called "Pookie" by family and friends. He was smart, had a dynamic personality; he was positive and upbeat and with a kind word for almost everyone.

As he takes his place in the 'upper room' and joins the elders and the ancestors, his presence will truly be missed by immediate and extended family.

Our deepest condolences to the entire Mosley family...the ties that bind can never be broken. We love you all!
