“ Peacefully sleeping, resting at last, The world&rsquo;s weary trouble and trials are past,
What would we give her hand to clasp, Her patient face to see,
To hear her voice, to see her smile, As in the days that used to be.
But some sweet day we&rsquo;ll meet again Beyond the toil and strife,
And clasp each other&rsquo;s hand once more, In heaven, that happy life.
Yes, sadly we miss her, and try not to grieve; A little while longer we, too, must leave
To meet her on that beautiful shore Where parting&rsquo;s unknown and life&rsquo;s evermore.
No one knows our heartaches;
Only those who have lost can tell
Of the grief that we bear in silence For the one we loved so well.
She was taken without any warning, Her going left hearts filled with pain;
But though she is gone from amongst us, In our hearts she will always remain.
The love that I have for her
I know that we both felt the same
That someone who always listened
In return, I did the same.##imported-begin##Peggy Sue Caston##imported-end##
