“ Aunt Doris,

It has been 18 years since you left this Earth. Oh, how your family has grown since then. Five more grandchildren and five great-grandchildren have been added to your lineage. You are missed. I think of our times together occasionally. You and Mama were the best of friends. I look forward to seeing you on the other side with our Creator on the Better Side of Creation.

*Love,
Your Nephew, DF.*

“ For my dear cousin Doris, whose face I remember so well, who treated me like a little brother whenever I came to Milwaukee to visit as a child, here's a poem for you. God Bless Our Family

Cousin Doris Laverne Jones

*Our lives are filled with twists and turns,
Valleys and hills of rugged terrain.
We sometimes have our days of joy,
Yet oft we have our nights of pain.*

*There are shadows that stretch across our paths,
No rest from life's sorrow, these shadows can bring.
But the Shadow O' Death, named by those of past
Holds peace for us, true rest this brings*

*For Christ our Lord, Our King has come
And death we all no longer fear.
Our names now writ in Heavens Books
Eternal Joy have we endeared*

*Doris Laverne Jones, her name spoke soft
Her life but a mist upon this earth
Well done, my daughter, she soon shall hear
Her life since changed with her new birth.*

*Come take your place, I bid thee, child,
For your trials now finished, your course well run.
Now Doris sits beside her Lord
