BE

“ I am forever grateful for the season that God allowed Ed to be a part of my life and the life of my brother, Poppi. I was so glad when the two of them became roommates. I laughed because the staff would ask Ed a question and Poppi would answer. They would ask Poppi a question and Ed would answer. Both of them had a great love for music, and I loved to watch Ed dance in his chair. It was a blessing to see him respond to his brother on his good days, and to see the joy on Lewis' face whenever that happened. It was an honor to adopt Ed as part of my nursing home family, and I will miss him. The staff knew how much I cared for him and they prepared me before I entered his and Poppi's room so that I would not experience the shock of going in and unexpectedly finding that his season here on earth had ended. I will keep your entire family in prayer as you walk this portion of his life's journey.
