

Ernest Gordon, Jr.

September 1, 1954 - June 25, 2011

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

“ I have so many memories of Ernest; it's so hard to choose what to write about him. I've known him since I was 11yrs old. We've had some ups, and some downs when he was here on earth with us. I can say I love him more than anything. I will miss everything about him; by far he was the funniest person I ever known; something he would always say is "they're crazy as a road lizard", Lol. And he didn't have a problem making fun of people too, which made him super funny. But the most memory that stick out of all; He came to my job looking for me, to let me know my son had got ill, and was rushed to the hospital. At the time I didn't have a car; he took me to my son at the hospital. When we got there my son still wasn't breathing. When I broke down and seen my son that way, he was there to embrace me. He stayed at the hospital until he made sure my son was getting better. That mean so much to me. And each time my son got sick, he was there to visit. I miss Ernest so much already. I wish I can talk to him again. I hope he know how much he mean to me. "I love you Ernest"###imported-begin##Monica L. Anderson##imported-end##

June 29, 2011 at 12:00 AM

“ The Gordon family is my family and we were neighbors for many years! Our heart were touched at homegoing of Ernest Gordon Jr. You are in our hearts and prayers!###imported-begin##Gregory J Robertson##imported-end##

June 28, 2011 at 12:00 AM