“ I had the great pleasure of working with Kim for several years in the MPS school to work transition program. She helped kids learn employment skills at Boston store at that time. She was excellent with kids, the staff and gave great customer service to shoppers, though the latter wasn't part of her job. It WAS part of her personality, though! Helping out wherever and however she could. She was respected, trusted and loved. She was always easy to find when I visited the store... I just followed the laughter. She lifted up the people around her, and always made you feel you were just the person she was hoping to see.

What a work ethic...I'll never forget the alarming call I got from Kim . When I answered the phone she was yelling for me at the top of her lungs, (so the volume was considerable!), but I could not understand her message. Pretty soon others started to yell over her, utter chaos... but only because she was on the way to the hospital. In the midst of a diabetes crisis, and was being carried out to an ambulance by EMTs. She somehow managed to pull out her phone, and reach me just as the EMTs discovered she made a call. They were yelling and trying to get her off the phone to ask her questions and monitor her vitals, and she kept yelling that she wanted me to know why she was leaving work!

Kim was one in a million or more, and I'll miss that smile and abundant laughter, and her wonderfully large heart.

I knew Kim through being friends with Karen for over 40 plus years. Her family became a part of our family as all of them are such kind people. Kim was surely a light; you always saw her with a smile on her face. She always seemed to be the constant anchor in the family and was always there. I will say to the family, I will do what I know to do is keep you all lifted in prayers. I saw this quote and think it has validity in it, it states: " Grief is love with nowhere to go. It never goes away, it only changes shape. May memories of your loved one be a comfort as the shape changes",

Philippians 4:7: (GW translation) "Then God's peace, which goes beyond anything we can imagine, will guard your thoughts and emotions through Christ Jesus"

God Bless you all!!

My condolences to the family, God has shared his angel with us for a little while and now has called her home with him may she rejoice and be at peace. I met Kim from her sister Karen she was a joy. I will continue to keep the family lifted up in prayer. 🙏

Kim was a dear friend of my mom, Vicki Callan. I also had the pleasure of working with, learning from and loving Kim. Kim's light was so bright. We were fortunate she shared her kindness, humor and positivity with us and the students of MPS. Sending the family lots of love. Cara Callan
