Louis L. Miller III, also known as L Dawg, Love Dawg, and Lou Dawg, was born on March 29, 1966, in Milwaukee, Wisconsin to Louis L. Miller Jr. (of Mississippi) and Geraldine Ward (of Tennessee).

Louis was raised in Milwaukee, where his life was filled with good times and lots of love between family and friends. His education was based on a Catholic foundation since grade school, attending Saint Rita's Catholic School and earning his high school diploma at Messmer Catholic High School in 1984.

During his college studies he met a young Italian woman, Laura Sparapani. They fell in love, married, and had three handsome sons: Dante (1987), Anthony (1992), and Daniel (1994).

After leaving the army, Louis became faithful in the career of telephone communications at AT&T, through its many mergers and name changes. Louis was blessed with another handsome son, Tristan (2006) with Jackie Hubbard. Louis had a huge passion for all Wisconsin sports teams. He would attend various Marquette Basketball games and other Wisconsin sport events with loved ones. He also developed a newfound hobby of traveling the world with family and friends. Some notable locations Louis traveled to were Puerto Rico, Aruba, Costa Rica, Bahamas, Virgin Islands, Turks and Caicos, Cayman Islands, Spain, and others!

Louis always put emphasis on living life to its fullest in all aspects. He will truly be missed, and many will cherish the memories they shared with him.
