“ *Diva,
You and I hadn't spoken in the past year or two. We were a total mess whenever we got together. We laughed and made jokes. We talked about life and just making an exit out of Wisconsin. You coined the term "garbage neck"...and every time you said it we both would just burst into laughter. I hated to hear this news because God knows you didn't deserve to transition this way. You were a good friend, a friend that loved selfies, pampering herself and good times. I wish I would've spoken to you one last time. I know your babies are going through it because you all were so close. You now are with your mom and I know she welcomed you with open arms. If I never told you, I love you Diva, I pray that you continue to watch and protect your babies from the cruel and evil beings that exist in this world. I wish you so much peace in the next life.*

*Your friend,
GiGi*
