“ Our thoughts, prayers, and love go out to the family of Bro. Quiller Harris. Bro. Harris (or "Hey Hey" as he was affectionately known) was quite the force. He was an "every man" in so many ways. He was "a man of the pulpit" for Hampton for many years, a great Bible Class teacher, a great song leader, a terrific handy man, a good cook, a savvy businessman, a good husband, father, and grandfather, a compassionate Christian man and one of the funniest people you'd ever meet! Brother Harris always believed in not just "standing in a pulpit" but he believed in getting in the trenches to do the work. Not only did he believe in doing the "spiritual work" but he believed in doing the "physical work". He never asked anyone to do anything that he himself wouldn't do. From repairing shingles on the church building roof, to washing dishes after a church fellowship dinner, to driving the church van...there was no task too big or small that "Hey Hey" wouldn't tackle. Wonderful memories and stories of him will live on and he will be greatly missed.
