“ Sherri and I shared not only our first names, (different spellings) but also our birth year '67, class graduation year '85 and a flood of memories of our upbringing in St. Mark AME Church. There are memories of choir rehearsals, Easter programs, Drama Guild and other church activities. But most of all we shared a bond with our very special Sunday School class; which we all faithfully attended until we graduated from our respective high schools and began our separate paths. I know Sherri had fond memories of this time in our lives too, as she called my mom a year or so ago. That shared meaningful time in our youth seemed to hold tight to each of us over all these years. I am feeling the loss of a lifelong friend because we shared so much more than just our names. Peace, be still for Sherri Martin. You are well remembered.

“ Sherri and I were childhood best friends. I remember when we were in grade school one winter day. She was wearing the snow boots that you put on over your shoes. While putting them on, her foot got stuck halfway in. We pushed and pulled but we could not take the boot off or push her foot in. One of the teachers tried but couldn't. I ended up carrying her home five blocks piggy back. Thankfully, she lived two houses from me. We laughed about that just a few years ago..... I'll miss you my friend. RIP

Sherri was my college bestie. We clowned and laughed together. She loved to shop and eat panera! She was full of wisdom and grace. I hope she smiling and dancing around with her family now. Rest in Peace my sweet SherBear ❤️
