

Sierra Johnson

August 10, 2000 - October 6, 2013

“But Jesus said, suffer little children and forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of Heaven.” Matthew 19:14

Sierra Johnson was born to the union of Mance and Sandy Johnson in Milwaukee, Wisconsin on August 10, 2000.

She received her academic education at Keefe Avenue School, where she was a cheerleader. Sierra loved school and was loved in return by her teachers.

Sierra was a member of the Canaan Baptist Church of Milwaukee at Canaan; she participated in the Angel Choir, Children’s Ministry, Children’s Ushers & Praise Dance Ministry. She loved reading and listening to music. One of her favorite characters was “Hello Kitty.” Her greatest ambition was to become a nurse one day. Perhaps that is why she was so endeared by the nurses at Children’s Hospital.

Sierra Johnson was a young person, but a great fighter. It was her decision to undergo a bone marrow transplant in the hopes of living a life free of the ailments that come with Sickle Cell Anemia. But a cure for her was not to be. After spending several months at Milwaukee Children’s Hospital, the Lord saw that she was getting tired, and He called her from labor to reward on October 16, 2013.

She leaves precious memories to her (mother) Sandy Johnson (step-dad) Elmo Wallace (sisters) Mary & Sadie Williams, Moyhani Wallace, Jashanti Lasandra & Leonna Johnson, Kali Huettli (brothers) Mance Johnson Jr.,
