“ Spencer I was honored to have known you and to be one of your best friends. I was the professional working guy and you were a jack of all trades but we had a special bond that went beyond titles. You became like a father to me after my father passed in 2002. I stopped calling you Spence and began calling you "Pops". I'm still in shock about your death but I smile when I think of all the good times we had together. You were my right hand man whenever I needed you. You always told me don't shed tears when I die. It was hard but I honored you by doing that. I trully miss you one of my best friends.

RIP Spencer

Love
